BenchMark Energy Corporation (OTCPink:BMRK) is the source for glycerin and related refined components, providing value through our industry knowledge.

History

BenchMark Energy Corporation was founded in 2011 by Mark Bateman, who saw great potential in glycerin in its early days. We began by serving customers in Idaho, North Dakota, Minnesota and Michigan, then we expanded our customer base by making the benefits of refined glycerin more widely known. With leadership from Mark Bateman and others, refined glycerin is gaining growing acceptance. Glycerin currently has over 1500 known uses in industries ranging from foods, pharmaceuticals, and cosmetics to paints, and coatings.

Now...

BenchMark Energy Corporation is expanding the global glycerin supply by developing new markets for refined glycerin sources. Our vision is to be a leading integrator of glycerin uses into new and traditional product streams.

Our unique supply and distribution platform allows us to ensure reliability and scalability for our customers and partners. An originator and prime mover of glycerin in the United States, we are now creating international markets.

We carefully manage the commodity, infrastructure, and governmental risks inherent in our business. By efficiently deploying capital, we take advantage of opportunities as they emerge around the world.
